United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA)

I,       Name      , certify that all parts produced in our facilities meet a production wage rate that is at least US $16/hour. The production wage rate is the average hourly base wage rate, not including benefits, of employees directly involved in the production of the part or component, and does not include salaries of management, R&D, Engineering or other workers who are not involved in the direct production of the parts or in the operation of production lines. The average labor value is calculated in accordance with the applicable statutory and/or regulatory requirements (USMCA Regulations Chapter 4 Rules of origin, Article 7: Labor Value Content Footnote 76). The information on this document is true. I agree to maintain and present upon request by U.S. Customs and/or other government agencies, the documentation supporting the labor rate calculation.
